A BILL

To provide for the appointment of a high-level United States representative or special envoy for Iran for the purpose of easing tensions and normalizing relations between the United States and Iran.

1       Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2       tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3       SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4       This Act may be cited as the “Iran Diplomatic Ac-
5       countability Act of 2009”.

6       SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

7       Congress finds the following:

1           (1) On December 3, 2007, the National Intel-
2           ligence Estimate, representing the consensus view of 3           16 intelligence agencies, concluded that Iran had 4           once had a covert nuclear weapons program.

5           (2) The National Intelligence Estimate also 6           found that Iran had halted its covert nuclear weap-
7           ons program in 2003 and that this program remains
8           frozen.

9           (3) The NIE concluded that Iran’s leadership
10          was quite sensitive to international views and wanted
11          to avoid international confrontation and made a 12          “cost-benefit” decision regarding whether or not to 13          have such a program.

14          (4) Serious concerns still remain about the Gov-
15          ernment of Iran’s intentions and behavior with re-
16          spect to the development of nuclear weapons, espe-
17          cially regarding its fuel enrichment program and the 18          speed with which it might reconstitute its suspended
19          nuclear weapons program.

20          (5) Hostile official rhetoric exacerbates tensions
21          and reinforces misunderstandings and animus be-
22          tween the people of the United States and Iran.

23          (6) The United States should enlist the support 24          of all interested parties to the region, including the 25          IAEA, to establish a program to ensure that Iran’s

1 nuclear weapons program is terminated perma-
 2 nently, that its nuclear energy program is brought 3 fully under IAEA inspection and control, and that 4 all diplomatic tools are utilized to achieve these ob-
 5 jectives.

6 (7) A diplomatic solution that includes direct,
 7 unconditional, bilateral, and comprehensive talks
 8 with the Government of Iran is the only way to re-9 solve long-standing tensions between the United 10 States and Iran.
